

NERUDA SONG NO.5 FOR EVERYONE

Poem by Pablo Neruda translated by Alastair Reid

ALICE SHIELDS

38 Allegro ♩ = 120 mp

Voice

I can't just sudden-ly be tell-ing you, what I should be tell-ing you;

Cello

mp

41

Voice

friend, for-give me, You know that al-though you don't hear my words, I

Cello

44

Voice

was-n't a-sleep— or in tears, — that I'm with you with-out see-ing

Cello

47 pp

Voice

you, for a good long time un - til the end.

Cello

3

Voice

I know that ma - - - ny may won - - der, what is Pab - - - lo

Cello

5

Voice

do - ing? I'm mf here. mp If you look for me

Cello

8

Voice

in this street, you'll find me with my vi - - - o - - - lin,

Cello

11

Voice

pre - pared to break mf in - - - to song, pre - - -

Cello

15

Voice

pared to die. legato It's no - - - - -

Cello

mf mf

19

Voice

----- thing that I _____ have to leave to an - - y one,

Cello

23 mp

Voice

not to these o - - - thers, not to you, and if you

Cello

mp

p

27

Voice

lis - - ten well _____ in the rain, _____ You'll hear _____

Cello

p

31

Voice

that I come and go _____ and hang a - bout. _____ And you know _____ that I have to leave. Ev - - en if my words don't know it,

Cello

35

Voice

Cello